

NO.	PRINCIPLE	EXPLANATION	REFERENCES
1	Breakdown into smaller organizational units that are geographically distributed.	It is no longer essential for the company to gather everything at headquarters. It is becoming increasingly easy to establish units where the workforce exists, the infrastructure is present, etc.	Chap. 3: Centralization – decentralization Virtual organizations and network organizations Chap. 7: The global organization
2	Digitisation, with everyone online.	All organizational units must be connected to the right people and the required information, always, anywhere and on all units. Communication technology is the central nervous system within the organization, and IT-systems support the company's processes.	Chap. 3: Virtual organizations and network organizations Chap. 9: Communication